I. W. W. CLOSE BUTTE SOLDIERS ON GUARDS

(By Associated Press)
BUTTE, Feb. 8.—Hundreds of striking miners, some armed, turned back the men who started to work today. Mining is practically suspended. This action followed an agreement reached last night at mass meetings called by the Industrial Workers of the World local. In several instances miners were waylaid and beaten. No arrests were made.

Soldiers of the 44th infantry were sent to the mines to guard approaches. Assistance was too late to prevent interference with the morning shift going to work.
